INTRODUCTION:

If you're looking to rise up into Twitter's TOP elite, then you've made an intelligent purchase. I'm about to share with you the fastest, most time efficient, and easiest ways to get massive amounts of followers on Twitter.

To begin with, Mass following does work to get a lot of followers, but it's totally inefficient. However, once you blow past the 2,000 level, you can no longer do a mass follow. You're only allowed to follow 10% more people than the amount of followers you have.

So mass following isn't really an option. What you need is a variety of super targeted tactics to resourcefully convert the people you do follow. Since you have limited open slots to follow people, these resources will allow you to work within those parameters.

Here are the best of the best tactics that I've personally used to go from About 400 followers on April 4th, 2009 to just over 10,000 new followers as of the time I'm writing this, May 4th 2009.

In less than 30 weeks, I went from a Twitter nobody to ranked #2 at <http://twitterholic.com> out of millions in the Houston area.

Getting on that suggested users list usually helps those that are on it to get upwards of 10,000 new followers a day. Last time I heard those slots were going for over $250,000 this time next year those slot will be worth more than an ad during the Super Bowl. Without being on that list, I've Used various tactics and gotten as many as 1,000 new followers on some days.

So to put it simply, THIS WORKS!

Now, I want you to test out these tactics for yourself and see how easy it is to add thousands of followers every week. You can do this in as little as 15-20 minutes a day. I personally use these tactics in 15-20 minutes bursts throughout the day.

I'm now going to give you my tactics and reasons behind them. I'll also share some software pieces I use to put some of these methods on auto pilot.

READ ALL OF THIS. Following Your Favorite's Followers (THE MOST EFFECTIVE method) is the most important thing in this guide for getting followers fast and without having to spend all day at your computer, but you need to understand everything else that goes with it.

Enjoy,

1. The “FFF” Secret

What this stands for is (Follow Follower’s Followers.) I normally get about 75-100 followers an hour (except overnight)... when I’m working this secret. So you can simply watch your new followers flood in.

But what you want to do is keep refreshing your follower’s list. So once a new follower comes in, you immediately go to their follower’s list and follow their 10 most recent followers. I’m betting that those 10 people are in a “follow back mood” and are online or recently online. So in a short time, they’ll end up following you as well. (Very Effective)

2. Here's A Mistake That You Want To Avoid

The mistake most people make is by putting up a picture that could be offensive to others. I've seen people with shirts off and their posing in the mirror or some girls may have on very provocative clothing. This is ok if you wish to just have your friends look at your profile as they may already be accustomed to your lifestyle, but if you're trying to target the masses and get as many people as you possibly can to follow you back, this is not acceptable to most people.

Although you may rack in a lot of followers, you will also offend quite a few. Some people take Twitter a little more serious than me and you. Others are just downright uptight.

Regardless, what you need to do is switch to a normal face picture or some cool icon for your main picture, You will notice an immediate and noticeable jump in how many followers you get and the conversions.

If you take the time to put up a real picture and also fix up your background, people will see that you're taking the time to work on your profile and will more likely follow you back.

3. Following Your Favorite's Followers (THE MOST EFFECTIVE)

You will want to pay close attention here. This one secret allowed me to get up to 400 followers in 2 hours. What I do here is find people who are experts in their niche (their field), for example I like to find people who are experts in the internet marketing field, so I find the ones with a large following around 20,000 and up.

Once I find these people I click the star next to their last update and save them to my favorite's folder. Most likely if they already have a large number of followers then more and more people will follow these people on a daily basis based off their name.

Find about 10 experts at least or as I like to call them (Feeders) because you will feed off their followers. So once you find these feeders who are experts in your field or niche, you will want to follow their followers. I use this method once a day, usually in 24 hour intervals, for most people this will be the only method you need to worry about for getting a mass following very quickly.

Once you're on your feeders page click on their followers and follow their followers, I usually go 10 pages deep into their followers, I do this for each of my feeders I have around 15 feeders I believe, every day I delete and add new ones as I feel necessary. If I see someone is not getting new followers on a daily basis I delete them from my feeders list (favorites list) and add someone else I have found who I see is also getting a large number of new followers on a daily basis.

You can go to my profile and use my feeders if you wish. You can also add me as a feeder; I am usually getting around 500 to 700 new followers per day using this method.

(EXTRA BONUS SECRET)

Once you followed your feeders 10 pages deep

Un-follow that ONE expert and re-follow them right back. You will only want to un-follow and re-follow your FEEDERS only, this doesn't mean un-follow and re-follow everyone on your list.

Other people will follow this same expert and follow their top five people so if you're always un-following and re-following you will be at the top of this persons list and more people will follow you because you're following their friend as well, and will believe you share the same interest as they do. Trust me this works.

Also don't use a real life celebrity as a feeder because most likely the people who are following Shaq or Oprah only want to follow Shaq and Oprah and are not interested in their followers, so this people will not convert into good feeders for you.

Other Helpful Info:

If you do check profiles and see a person that isn't following a lot of people, you shouldn't focus on following that person. The reason: If you post a lot of updates, you'll flood their twitter page with your posts and this may annoy them. They'll then un-follow you. So if someone is following less than 150 people, it may be a good idea not to follow them.

A trick to get a lot of large response from your followers and to get more followers are to ask open-ended questions. I ask a lot of questions that require more than a yes no answer. This gets tons of responses. It engages the people and helps you to form a bond with them. But also... the more people who respond, the more people will see you because you'll be at the top of many people's updates lists.

Before you go to bed, make sure you're following the maximum number of people allowed.

The more aggressive you recycle out non-followers and follow new people, the faster you'll get new followers. A side benefit to doing this is that you'll be at the top of a lot of, followers, lists which will catch the eye of other people so they can follow you.

Anytime you see someone who is getting a lot of follower's fast, pay attention to see if a lot of those followers DON'T have pictures..., don't use them as a feeder. Avoid their followers.

You can get a lot of followers by putting out some really good info or a good joke because people will retweet that. I personally don't do this, but I know it works for other people

Recommendations

1. The most important tool you will need for this is a MOUSE a regular computer mouse, this applies if you are working and trying to use these secrets on a laptop because using your mouse you will be able to follow and un-follow people at greater speeds from using your laptop...
2. When I do a mass un-follow to clear up my spots of people who aren't following me back I use <http://TwitterHummingBird.com> this software allows me to click one button (Un-Follow All) and it goes through my entire list and un-follows everyone who is not following me back. I am very aggressive when it comes to people following me back. I usually give them 24-48 to follow me back, if not they will be removed because I will need that slot to follow someone else. It's easy to manage this if you have a small following but once you reach 5000, 10,000 and up you will want to find a tool that does your mass un-follow on auto pilot, one more thing this tool also tells me if I try to re-follow someone who I previously un-followed yesterday so mostly likely I will not re-follow them because either their not interested in me or their not on twitter enough for me to worry about. You can use the software above to do this or you can search Google for (mass un-follow Tool) and find a free one...

EARN HUGE COMMISSION CHECKS?

Using this system you will generate 500+ new users per day no less than 10,000 new followers per month. What if you can convert a portion of your new followers into cash? How about $5 per new follower you receive. Think about this, 10,000 new followers and you only convert 3% of that into a sale. That's 300 people, 300×5 is an extra $1500 per month deposited into your bank account, all because you set up your twitter once and now you're getting paid every week. 3 months from now you're at 30,000 followers you send out a link one time to update on twitter 3% of your followers want to know how you got such a large following in a short period of time, that's 900 sales from posting one line $900 \times $5 = \4500 , this method is proved to be very effective.

Below are the, step by step, instructions on setting up your affiliate link so you can start raking in some huge weekly commission checks.
